News to Roar About!

The impact of your donations has never been more evident than this year. As I look around I see the signs everywhere—in academic, athletic and extracurricular programs, and in the arts.

I realize that it is a choice to donate to The Lion Foundation and want to assure you that your investment in our children is paying off! Each year our students take what we give them and bring back success. With that success comes confidence, future leaders and outstanding global citizens.

Thank you for your continued investment in “Our Children, Our Community and Our Future.” If there is a specific program you would like to support, contact me at robin@thelionfoundation.org.

BANK VISIT

As a follow-up to their trip to JA Biztown where 5th graders ran a simulated town, Mid Penn Bank invited Eisenhower Elementary School fifth graders to their new Camp Hill office on Market Street to witness a real bank in action. According to the fifth grade teachers, highlights included talking about counterfeit money, fanning (and smelling) a stack of new bills, and visiting the vault to see how it worked.

DISTRACTED DRIVER ASSEMBLY

Jacy and Steve Good delivered a powerful message to Camp Hill High School students last spring about the impact of distracted driving. During the HangUpAndDrive assembly, funded by The Lion Foundation, they urged students and adults to turn off their phones, even placing them out of reach—in the glove box, the back seat or even in the trunk of the car—while driving.

“I wanted to share with you that your HangUpAndDrive assembly really impacted my daughter. She was anxious to tell me about the program. I almost felt as I was there as she reiterated the conversation of the couple almost verbatim. She felt it was an incredible program and was very impacted by it. Great job!” – Camp Hill High School Parent

NATIONAL QUIZ BOWL CHAMPS!

The Camp Hill High School Quiz Bowl team finished 3rd in the Small Schools Nationals Championship, and 1st in the Very Small School Category, for this academic sport of the mind. Members of the team included Joseph Zullo, Ben Haas, Alex Drda, Sydney Preston and recent graduate, Colton Sanden, who finished 5th individually in the U.S. out of 533 students.

The national competition showcased 96 small school teams, and 12 very small schools.

“Thank you to The Lion Foundation for your generous support of the quiz bowl team’s trip to the National Championship in April. Your support made it possible for the team to travel to Chicago affordably and gain Camp Hill more success in the area of quiz bowl than we’ve ever had before.” –Andrew Gianelli, Quiz Bowl Team Coach

ANNUAL APPEAL

Patty Craig, Camp Hill School District Superintendent

IMPACT OF THE POLLOCK CENTER

Each year, The Lion Foundation allocates approximately $300,000 from an endowment dedicated to maintaining and operating the Grace Milliman Pollock Performing Arts Center. Thanks to this investment, which grows stronger with each year, our Camp Hill arts program received a Hershey Theater Apollo Award for: Best Outstanding High School Play for Steel Magnolias; Outstanding Supporting Actress in a High School Play for a glowing performance by incoming Senior, Natalie Blanton; and, Spirit of Theater Awards for recent graduate, Tessa Eberlein, and incoming Junior, Mia Pertschi.

Visit www.gmppac.org to learn more about what's going on at the Pollock Arts Center.
